POLISCI 121: World Politics

Course Description:
Introduction to the principles and practices of international relations in the political, military, economic, and environmental realms. Study of the development of the contemporary system to explore the effects of the structure of the international system, the institutions through which states conduct their relations, and domestic characteristics on the relations among states.

Online CS1 - CPE Summer Session 1 (5/16-6/24)
Gen. Ed./ Credits: SB 4

Instructor: James Heilman
I am a fourth year doctoral student. My major subfields are International Relations and Contemporary Political and Social Theory and within IR I'm mostly interested in international environmental politics and international political economy. I am currently working on projects that analyze the role played by firms and industry associations in governing markets. I also very much enjoy the opportunity to work with students in courses for which I am a TA or an instructor and am happy to continue to help students with their academic or professional lives after they have completed my course.

How to enroll:
Prior to enrolling, you need a CPE self-enrollment appointment. Log into SPIRE with your NETID and Password
Main Menu > Enrollment > Summer/Wntr/Non-degr Enroll Appt and follow instructions
Once you have an appointment, log into SPIRE > Main Menu > Enrollment > Add Classes https://www.umassulearn.net/registration-info/how-to-enroll/undergraduate