Dawn Purvis

Dawn joined Choice Housing just over two years ago as Head of Corporate Affairs. She was previously CEO of Victoria Housing Estates and oversaw the successful transfer of their stock to Choice Housing. Prior to joining the housing sector, Dawn was NI Director of Marie Stopes International opening their first integrated sexual and reproductive healthcare centre in Belfast. Dawn's earlier career was in politics, leading the Progressive Unionist Party for a number of years after the death of David Ervine. Dawn left politics in 2011 but retains her interest in social and economic justice by volunteering with the boards of a number of charities.
